ABOUT

My career started in motion graphics and editing, but over the years the work has grown into something broader — from shaping ideas and producing videos to leading teams and creative execution.

I have 8+ years of experience across video production, motion graphics and editing, with much of my work centred around YouTube long-form and short-form content, brand and performance marketing ads.

Over time, the role has expanded from making the work to helping shape how the work gets made — leading teams, managing production, working with agencies and stakeholders, building repeatable workflows and figuring out how to keep quality high when the volume gets high.

AI is becoming an increasingly interesting part of that process for me. I've been experimenting with generative image and video, AI-assisted workflows and new creative tools, less because AI is the destination and more because I'm curious about how it changes the way we think, make and experiment.

EXPERIENCE

Angel One · Fintech — Feb 2024 – Sep 2026

Manager – Video Editor · Video and creative production

3.6 → 8.3
Average Shorts per week

40.9% → 50.8%
Average retention, Angel One Main

35–40
Creative outputs per month

- Owned the Shorts production pipeline across two channels, increasing average weekly output from 3.6 to 8.3 videos, with peaks of 16, while reducing per-video turnaround from 5.1 to 4.6 hours.
- Improved content performance, taking average retention on Angel One Main from 40.9% to 50.8%, with views per Short up 98% across a five-week period.
- Kept high-volume production moving by planning edit schedules around channel owners and publishing calendars, balancing capacity between the in-house team and external agencies.
- Led a team of editors and a graphic designer, assigning work by complexity and bandwidth while maintaining creative quality and consistency across roughly 35–40 monthly assets.
- Led creative execution for brand and performance campaigns across Meta and Google, including IPO, in-app content and Gold and Silver ETF campaigns, alongside B2B business content.
- Introduced reusable creative systems and templates for recurring formats, improving production speed and reducing repetitive work across the team.
- Integrated AI into the production workflow: built a thumbnail workflow with Google Antigravity and Claude Code that cut production from about an hour to 5–10 minutes, standardised AI-assisted voice on ElevenLabs, and worked with Magnific AI and Higgsfield on generative image and video for performance creative.
